

DW13

The Luggage Bookend

“...the Luggage extended its little legs, braced itself and ran full tilt at the nearest wall. Clay bricks and dusty mortar exploded around it. Cohen peered through the hole. There was a small storeroom on the other side. The Luggage stood in the middle of the floor, radiating extreme bafflement.”
The Light Fantastic.

SCULPTOR: John Goadby

INTRODUCED: October 1990

RETIRED: October 2005

NUMBER SOLD: 3853 – (plus 31 pewter colour and 1 bronze)

1ST RRP: £35.75

LAST RRP: £42.65

TOP PRICE SINCE:

Changes: None